Quarterly Fund Manager Review

The Fund generated a positive return over the quarter, net of fees, and was ahead of its benchmark. Stock selection aided relative returns in the consumer discretionary and financials sectors, although an overweight to the latter weighed. Stock selection in the industrials and technology sectors also detracted. ASML contributed positively over the quarter despite weakness in the wider semiconductor space towards the end of September. RELX aided relative returns as investor confidence in a recovery in exhibitions gathered pace. Pharmaceutical company Novo Nordisk issued a robust set of results for the second quarter. Continental detracted, with sentiment around the stock hampered by a global semiconductor shortage and the negative implications for auto production. Worldline continued to trend lower following a mixed set of results in July. Prosus suffered from its material equity exposure to Tencent amid continued concerns around China's regulatory crackdown on the domestic technology sector. In terms of activity, we purchased Kerry Group, a leading global player in food ingredients and flavours. We received shares in Universal Music Group (UMG) following its spinout from Vivendi. We increased the holding in Swiss pharmaceutical giant Roche. We also increased fellow Swiss pharmaceutical Novartis at what we found to be an undemanding valuation. We increased the position in Chr. Hansen, a world leader in 'good bacteria' and starter cultures for the dairy industry, following a period of share-price weakness. We added to the holding in SAP with its transition from licensed software to a cloud-based business model appearing to be progressing successfully. Owing to its material exposure to Tencent, which has been caught up in the storm surrounding the Chinese government's increasingly interventionist approach to large companies in the online space, we decided to sell the holding in Prosus. With the shares having climbed steadily higher this year, we decided to reduce the holding in Thales amid persistent uncertainty around the pace of a recovery in the civil aviation industry. We reduced the holding in Novo Nordisk following a strong period of performance. We also reduced Continental.
