Quarterly Fund Manager Review

The Fund rose by 5.3% over the quarter, outperforming its benchmark, which was up by 5.0%. UK equities finished the year on a strong note, with a total return of +5.0% over the quarter and +13.1% for the year. The UK economic growth rate slowed in 2017, but the impact of Brexit was far less than many had feared: consumption and investment weakened, but net trade provided an offset; and the chancellor took the opportunity provided by the Budget to modestly ease the fiscal stance. The domestic political environment remained febrile, but the year ended with a declaration from the European Commission that "sufficient progress" had been made to allow discussions to move on to the UK's future relationship with the European Union. Global economic growth remained robust and led to further monetary tightening, with interest rates rising in both the UK and the US. Small-and mid-cap indices performed strongly over the year, but broadly in line with the FTSE 100 in the fourth quarter. The rally in the oil price in the second half of the year led to further strength in the oil and gas sector; the mining sector similarly benefited from the strength of metals prices towards the year-end.
