Scottish Widows Managed Growth 6 L Acc

Fund Objective

The Fund aims to achieve capital growth by investing in a portfolio of collective investment schemes to achieve exposure to a wide range of investments, consisting of UK and Global shares, plus fixed interest securities and property assets with some exposure to absolute return strategies. We do not quote a benchmark or outperformance target for the Fund. This is because the asset allocation of the Fund will change over time. Many funds sold in the UK are grouped into sectors by the Investment Association (the trade body that represents UK investment managers) to help investors compare funds with broadly similar characteristics. Investors may wish to consider the performance of the Fund by looking at the performance of the “Flexible Investment Sector”. The Fund may not always align with this sector and any changes will be notified via our website, accessible via the Fund Changes link below. Quarterly Fund Manager Review

Global equity markets achieved a mixed performance in the first quarter. US stocks fell on tariffs worries while Europe outperformed as Germany announced spending plans. In the US, the news that China’s DeepSeek had developed an artificial intelligence (AI) model comparable to market leaders, but at a fraction of the cost, caused investors to reassess expectations around AI, US leadership in the field, and returns on investment. Eurozone shares gained sharply in Q1 as investors rotated out of US large caps. UK equities also rose over the quarter, driven by a strong performance from larger companies. The Japanese equity market declined in Q1, ending the quarter with a negative return of -3.4% for the TOPIX Total Return index in yen terms. The MSCI Emerging Markets (EM) index gained over Q1 2025, ahead of US indices although behind the MSCI Europe. Asia ex Japan equities achieved modest gains in the first quarter. China, Singapore, and South Korea were the best-performing markets in the MSCI AC Asia ex Japan Index. Thailand, Taiwan, and Indonesia were the worst-performing markets in the quarter. In the bond markets, German Bunds bore the brunt of the sell-off across the eurozone, with yields recording their largest daily jump since reunification in 1990 after Germany’s parliament approved plans by incoming Chancellor Friedrich Merz to loosen borrowing limits, exempting spending on defence and security from the country’s strict debt rules (yields move inversely to price). There was a partial reversal of the market weakness towards the end of the quarter as focus turned to the impact from tariffs ahead of US “Liberation Day”. US Treasuries outperformed this quarter, with yields falling (and prices rising) in response to weaker economic activity data. In the UK, a stagflationary outlook and a vulnerable fiscal position, underscored by the government’s Spring Statement, influenced asset performance. Gilt yields ended slightly higher. In the property market there is now increasing evidence of positive trends in activity and transaction pricing. Operating conditions are being well supported by continued tight supply and an increasing scarcity of modern, ESG-certified space.
