Quarterly Fund Manager Review

The fund posted positive returns of 0.1% over the quarter, while the index posted negative returns of -0.2%. We maintained a modest short duration profile on average, as we believed that the duration rally towards the end of the last quarter and in July was overdone and that interest rates had the potential to rise. This underweight duration positioning aided returns as core government bond yields rose in August and September, amid volatility in interest rates as central banks adopted a tighter monetary policy stance. We have been biased towards asset-backed securities (ABS) and COVID-19-sensitive names for some time, which supported returns over the quarter. The holding in Peel South East was the top contributor to performance from an issuer standpoint. The overweight exposure to securitised names such as Dignity Finance, AA Bond Co and Rac Bond Co also supported returns as the ABS sector outperformed. However, gains were offset by the overweight stance in high yield bonds as market sentiment wobbled in September amid concerns related to China Evergrande Group, potential Fed tapering and rising gas prices.
