RUSSELL INVESTMENTS SUSTAINABLE MANAGED PORTFOLIO – HIGH GROWTH

Quarterly update for Month ending March 2024

Investment objective

To provide returns over the long term, with moderate to high volatility, consistent with a portfolio focusing on growth assets. The portfolio aims to provide exposure to predominantly sustainable investment strategies and outperform the benchmark over a rolling seven-year period.

¹ The managed portfolio performance represents total return for the periods. Returns have been calculated using the time-weighted method, they assume distributions are reinvested and are after investment management fees and indirect costs. Total and growth returns include accrued distributions, while income return includes paid distributions only. Returns do not take into account tax payable. Individual client returns may vary based on the contributions, withdrawals, and timing differences within the managed portfolio

Quarterly manager commentary

Market Update

Global share markets made strong gains in the March quarter. Stocks continued to be influenced in large part by the outlook for global interest rates. In the US, Federal Reserve (Fed) chairman Jerome Powell acknowledged that it would be appropriate to start lowering interest rates sometime this year; though he wouldn't be drawn on specific timing. He did add, however, that a March rate cut was unlikely as the Bank had yet to reach a point where it was confident that inflation was coming down sustainably toward its 2.0% target. He also reiterated that the Fed sees three interest rate cuts this year. At the time, the market was betting the Fed would cut rates six times in 2024; the first of which was pencilled in for March. Powell went on to say that whilst the Fed believes interest rates have peaked for this tightening cycle, policymakers remain wary of cutting rates too quickly as doing so could potentially cause inflation to reaccelerate. We saw a similar theme in the UK and Europe, while the Bank of Japan raised interest rates for the first time in 17 years in March. Australian shares performed well; though much of the gains came toward the end of the period after the Reserve Bank of Australia adopted a slightly less hawkish stance on interest rates. Global bonds were slightly weaker for the quarter, while Australian bonds recorded modest gains.

Portfolio Update

The portfolio delivered a return of 9.55% over the past quarter. The direct Australian equity ESG portfolio contributed positively to performance over the period. Our global equities exposure also added value. The direct Australian equity ESG portfolio significantly outperformed its benchmark, benefiting in part from strong stock selection within the materials space. This included a structurally imposed underweight to iron ore major BHP Group, which fell on the back of weaker iron ore prices, and overweights to Iluka Resources and James Hardie Industries. Stock selection amongst industrials also added value; notably a sizable overweight to Brambles, which rallied in the wake of better-than-expected earnings. Stock selection within the consumer discretionary sector, including an overweight to electronics retailer JB Hi-Fi, and an overweight to the strong-performing information technology space added further value over the period.

Mirova's Global Sustainable Equity No.2 Fund outperformed its benchmark. Stock selection within the information technology space contributed positively to performance, including overweights to US chip maker NVIDIA and Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Co. Stock selection within the healthcare sector also added value; notably an overweight to Eli Lilly & Co. An underweight to financials added further value over the period.

The Russell Investments Low Carbon Global Shares Fund performed in line with its benchmark. The Fund benefited from its exclusion of tobacco manufacturers and companies involved in defence contracting, however this was offset by stock selection within the information technology space and our structural underweight to the energy sector.

The Impax Sustainable Leaders strategy underperformed its benchmark, driven in part by a sizable overweight to the materials space. Overweights to US software company Ansys, Inc. and UK automotive firm Aptiv also weighed on returns. In contrast, the strategy benefited from stock selection amongst industrials, including overweights to US names United Rentals and Waste Management.

Portfolio changes during the quarter:

During the quarter, we rebalanced the direct Australian equity ESG portfolio as part of the regular review cycle. We also reduced the portfolio's allocation to global equities in favour of Australian equities and global and Australian listed property.

Market Outlook

We believe the main uncertainty for markets is the outlook for the US economy. Whilst economic data has so far proven more resilient than markets initially expected, we believe the risk of a recession in the US over the next 12 to 18 months remains elevated. US core inflation has trended lower over the past year but remains well above the Fed's 2% target. The key question now is how long will it take for core inflation to settle closer to the central bank's target? Fears that US monetary policy will remain too restrictive for too long have softened due to the recent decline in core inflation, however until we see core inflation reach the Fed's target, markets may remain volatile.
