Quarterly manager commentary

Market Update

Led by the “Magnificent 7”, global stocks had strong end to 2024, with the MSCI World ex Australia IMI Index returning 11.86% during the fourth quarter¹. The Federal Reserve held rates steady in the first half of the year, followed by consecutive rate cuts in September, November, and December as inflation slowed. The potential impact of the US presidential elections loomed large for much of the year, but markets proved resilient through the uncertainty. The Australian market lagged other developed markets, with the S&P/ASX 300 Index returning -0.81% during the fourth quarter.

Portfolio Update

The portfolio delivered a return of 1.82% over the December quarter. The equity component of the portfolio contributed positively to the performance. Fixed interest returns were negative, detracting from performance.

An overweight to Australian equities detracted from performance during the quarter, as the Australian equity exposure underperformed the global equity exposure. Focus on the size, value and profitability premiums detracted from performance, with the underlying equity funds underperforming their benchmarks, except for the Emerging Markets Sustainability Trust, which outperformed its benchmark.

The underlying fixed interest fund underperformed over the quarter, as longer duration within the fund drove relative performance. An underweight to Chinese Yuan also detracted from performance due to China not being eligible for investment within the fund.

Portfolio changes during the quarter:

The Dimensional Core Wealth Portfolios are strategic asset allocations designed for different investment goals and risk preferences. The Portfolios remained focused on these strategic asset allocations throughout the quarter.

Market Outlook

The Dimensional Core Wealth Portfolios tilt toward securities with higher expected returns. The equity allocations focus on size, value and profitability premiums. The fixed interest allocations look to term, credit and currency.
