¹ The managed portfolio performance represents total return for the periods. Returns have been calculated using the time-weighted method, they assume distributions are reinvested and are after investment management fees and indirect costs. Total and growth returns include accrued distributions, while income return includes paid distributions only. Returns do not take into account tax payable. Individual client returns may vary based on the contributions, withdrawals, and timing differences within the managed portfolio

Quarterly manager commentary

Market Update

The Australian share market ended the year on a high note, with the ASX200 benchmark gaining a remarkable 12.7% in November and December. The quarterly rally was driven by the rate sensitive sectors, including REITs (+16%), while Materials (+13%) and Banks (+10%) also outperformed. Energy (-9%) was the weakest performer as crude oil prices declined over the quarter.

Global equities rose 5% over the quarter and 23% over calendar 2023. Year to date returns were in positive territory in the major regions (US +20%, Europe +13% and Japan +24%). Real assets enjoyed a strong month and quarter, with the prospect of 2024 rate cuts boosting these sectors after they underperformed for most of the year. Within REITs, the S&P/ASX 200 A-REIT Accumulation Index and the FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed Ex Australia Index (AUD Hedged) returned 17% and 13%, respectively over the quarter. The Global Infrastructure sector (as represented by the FTSE Global Core Infrastructure 50/50 Index (AUD Hedged)) finished 3% higher for December and 8% higher for the quarter.

The RBA left rates on hold in its final meeting of 2023, although remained less dovish about rate cuts in 2024 compared to other central banks. Australian bond yields followed US yields lower over the month, with 10-year yields falling 45bps to 3.96%. US bond yields fell again in December, down 48bps, as markets reacted to Federal Reserve's flagging of potential rate cuts in the coming months. The domestic and global fixed interest indices rose over the quarter, with markets starting to price in potential rates cuts in 2024. The Bloomberg AusBond Composite 0+ Years Index gained 3.8% for the quarter, while the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Index (AUD Hedged) rose 5.4%.

Portfolio update

The portfolio returned a solid 4.43% in the December quarter, however did underperform the peer group benchmark. The structural overweight to

Australian equities (to capture the benefits of franking credits) detracted this quarter as domestic equities were again unable to keep pace with their global equity counterparts.

Manager selection was also a detractor for the quarter. The embedded value bias within our equity allocations, along with our defensive low volatility exposures lagged in an environment where risk assets rallied strongly. From an Australian equities perspective, Investors Mutual Equity Income Fund and AB Managed Volatility Equities Fund were the worst performers. The decision to add Betashares Global Shares Currency Hedged ETF during the quarter added good value as the AUD strengthened 5.8% against the USD. In fixed income, it was the more traditional duration managers (Schroder Fixed Income Fund and PIMCO Global Bond Fund) that performed the strongest as bond markets rallied. The alternatives exposures within the portfolio contributed positively to returns over the quarter. Colchester Emerging Markets Bond Fund has returned 4.5% for the quarter, taking the strategy's 12-month return to 18.3%.

From an income perspective, the portfolio has delivered in excess of the 4% income target through the cycle (3-5 years). Over the 12 months to December 2023 the portfolio generated 4.33% income (before franking). Pleasingly, income was sourced from a wide range of strategies and asset classes, from equities to infrastructure, emerging market debt and option premia.

Market Outlook

Macroeconomic conditions continue to decelerate, consistent with our ongoing thesis that we have entered the end of this cycle. However, beyond just trying to identify the point where we will begin to shift our portfolios into more of a defensive posture, we note that the cycle is impacting different groups, regions and even stocks differently. Without a consensus or majority of factors moving negatively and few signs that this "muddle through" situation breaks into a definitive trend, we continue to hold a cautious but not bearish stance on markets.
