

Quarterly update for Month ending March 2024

Investment objective

To provide capital growth over the long term, consistent with a portfolio focusing solely on growth-oriented assets, while accepting fluctuations in capital values in the medium term. The portfolio aims to outperform the benchmark over the long term.

Quarterly manager commentary

Market Update

Global share markets made strong gains in the March quarter. Stocks continued to be influenced in large part by the outlook for global interest rates. In the US, Federal Reserve (Fed) chairman Jerome Powell acknowledged that it would be appropriate to start lowering interest rates sometime this year; though he wouldn't be drawn on specific timing. He did add, however, that a March rate cut was unlikely as the Bank had yet to reach a point where it was confident that inflation was coming down sustainably toward its 2.0% target. He also reiterated that the Fed sees three interest rate cuts this year. At the time, the market was betting the Fed would cut rates six times in 2024; the first of which was pencilled in for March. Powell went on to say that whilst the Fed believes interest rates have peaked for this tightening cycle, policymakers remain wary of cutting rates too quickly as doing so could potentially cause inflation to reaccelerate. We saw a similar theme in the UK and Europe, while the Bank of Japan raised interest rates for the first time in 17 years in March. Australian shares performed well; though much of the gains came toward the end of the period after the Reserve Bank of Australia adopted a slightly less hawkish stance on interest rates. Global bonds were slightly weaker for the quarter, while Australian bonds recorded modest gains.

Portfolio Update

The portfolio delivered a return of 7.58% over the past quarter. Our global equities exposure and the direct Australian equity portfolio delivered positive absolute returns over the period, however benchmark-relative performance was slightly negative. Overall, the managed portfolio is aligned with its long-term asset allocation as we wait patiently for opportunities. The direct Australian equity portfolio narrowly underperformed its benchmark, driven in part by a modest overweight to the materials space. This included overweights to iron ore majors BHP Group and Fortescue; both of which fell sharply on the back of weaker iron ore prices. Stock selection within the consumer staples sector also weighed on returns, including an overweight to Woolworths. Woolworths fell following the release of its financial results and the resignation of managing director and group CEO, Brad Banducci. In contrast, stock selection amongst real estate stocks added value over the period; notably an overweight to industrial property giant Goodman Group. Goodman Group rallied on a combination of solid financial results and a strong data centre pipeline. In terms of global equity managers, Japan equity specialist Nissay Asset Management underperformed its benchmark, driven in part by overweights to Nippon Shinyaku and Misumi Group. Emerging markets specialist Redwheel (formerly RWC Partners) also underperformed. In contrast, growth manager Wellington and quantitative manager Numeric performed well over the period. In March, we removed UK equity specialist J O Hambro from the Russell Investments Global Opportunities Fund following the announcement that highly rated portfolio manager, Alex Savvides, will leave the company. J O Hambro was replaced by Joh. Berenberg, Gossler & Co. KG (Berenberg) and Brandywine Global Investment Management, LLC (Brandywine). Berenberg deploys capital to European companies capturing growth acceleration, while Brandywine has a focus on low absolute and relative valuations in the US.

Portfolio changes during the quarter:

During the quarter, we rebalanced the direct Australian equity portfolio as part of the regular review cycle.

Market Outlook

We believe the main uncertainty for markets is the outlook for the US economy. Whilst economic data has so far proven more resilient than markets initially expected, we believe the risk of a recession in the US over the next 12 to 18 months remains elevated. US core inflation has trended lower over the past year but remains well above the Fed's 2% target. The key question now is how long will it take for core inflation to settle closer to the central bank's target? Fears that US monetary policy will remain too restrictive for too long have softened due to the recent decline in core inflation, however until we see core inflation reach the Fed's target, markets may remain volatile.
